'round town

with Betty Allen...

A telegram received Saturday by The What Not Parrs tells of the safe arrival in Guatemala City of Paul and Vivian Becker. The Beckers had to wait three weeks in Mexico City for a group of travelers to share a box car used for transporting their car through the jungle.

In the first round of the tennis tournament, Carl Strachan and Bill Rickers defeated Carl Field and Richard Field in the men's singles. Asked a few days later about the outcome of their matches, the victorious players quipped "We had a Field day!"

Petitions are being circulated among residents on Rosemary Lane, Bland and Latimer Avenues for permission to join the fire district.

John Bogner had a busy day not long ago . . . he served as best man at a wedding and brought his new baby and wife home from the hospital—all in the same day.

Irving Townsend writes from New Mexico that it is really hot there, but a "long prayed for" rain broke up the recent heat wave.

Just as I think we have run the gauntlet of all possible pets something else turns up. The latest is a large Pismo clam, brought home from the beach by our daughter. He seems to have a very dull personality and it's a little hard to get enthusiastic about him. Since our culinary offerings don't appeal, it may be that he is not long for this world. A liberal sprinkling of salt has been put in his water, however, in an effort to make him feel at home.

There seems to be some apprehension on the part of a few people that the proposed industrial zoning would attract to Campbell a lot of the "wrong type" of residents. The fallacy in this thinking is that the industrial workers would be of the very best type to "attract" to Campbell. At present most of the work offered in the Campbell area is seasonal. Industrial workers who would have to be steady and industrious to hold their jobs would be an asset to the community. The majority of them would want to own their own homes and they and their families would make worthwhile contributions to our community. Many of the people now living here and working elsewhere would be offered the opportunity to work near their homes. The giant move of industry to decentralize is of benefit to the workers as well as to the companies and incidentally to the towns in which small industries are located.

Woman Beaten For Refusing Ride

Mrs. Nora Bee, 398 W. San Fernando St., San Jose, reported to San Jose police that when she emerged from a San Jose tavern two men approached her in a filling station and insisted that she ride to Campbell with them. When she refused one of them beat her severely while the other man watched. Mrs. Bee was given emergency treatment.

One man was described by Mrs. Bee as "being old and gray-haired". The other one, who did the beating, she said, was about 35 years of age, 6 feet tall and weighed about 165 pounds, with a sandy complexion and blue eyes.

SILVA IMPROVING

Friends of Manuel Silva will be happy to learn that, at the time the paper went to press, he was reported in a favorable condition at the County Hospital, where he was taken last Sunday with what was believed to be spinal meningitis. According to Everett Nelson of Nelson Brothers Trucking Co., where Silva is employed, it is now believed that the disease is checked and Silva is expected to recover. He is in the isolation ward at the County Hospital.

Trailer Gypsies Follow the Fruit

By Josephine Decker

As fruit and vegetables ripen in California their harvesting depends to a great extent on an army of men and women who travel the highways—the migratory workers.

There are many of these families on the streets of Campbell now. They have come to the Santa Clara Valley to work in the apricots, pears and prunes.

As they drive into town in their cars loaded with children, tents, cooking utensils, bed rolls and often a small dog or so, they bring with them the speech, manners and customs of many parts of our nation.

A soft Texas drawl heard in the Farm Labor Office says, "Yes, Ma'am, we live in Lerido, but come summer time the five boys and my wife and me head for the Pacific Coast. Cherries in Washington State, apples in Oregon, apricots and prunes in the Santa Clara Valley, cotton further south, then time to home again for school for the kids."

Many of the migrants do not have permanent homes, but with a trailer or tent travel the year round. There is little chance for schooling for their children for they do not stay in any one place long enough to enroll in the local schools. To remedy this situation the U. S. Department of Education is experimenting with migratory camp schools. One such school has been established in Milpitas.

This year a number of young couples, the men usually wearing ex-G. I. clothes, his wife in blouse, slacks and a gay bandana, are following the crops. Often they are inexperienced in fruit work, but they have heard of the good wages, have no settled jobs and are looking the country over as they travel.

Traveling, camping, roaming—it sounds like a gay gypsy life, but these migratory workers do not have a carefree air about them. Their living is one of inconvenience and uncertainty and one senses the underlying concern and anxiety.

Wages are good, but prices are high. Where can we find a campsite? These are few and far between. Will I leave this place soon enough to get a good job on the next crop? How are wages down the line? By the piece or by the hour—how are they paying?

Growers and ranchers recognize this restlessness among pickers this year—there is lots of shifting about. People are bargaining for the best wages—they are not interested mainly in the quality only the quantity of the harvest.

Different races, different colors, different backgrounds—the migratory workers are here. Some good workers, some poor, they have many problems and they present many to the communities to which they come.

As long as our rich valley crops demand seasonal workers we will have to find ways to meet those problems.

Sometimes we do very well — stopping by a camp ground we talked to the mother of six who said, "I suppose you folks who live here take it for granted—all this rich land. But in the winter, sitting inside a trailer, miles and miles from here I think about them golden apricots in the Santa Clara Valley, and they look and smell like summer. We're glad we can be here and be working."

RUMMAGE SALE DATES ANNOUNCED BY CAMPBELL HIGH PTA

Mrs. R. L. Allinger, general finance chairman, announces plans completed for the rummage sale to be held by the Campbell High PTA on August 15, 16, 17, in the IOOF Hall in Campbell.

Members are asked to bring articles to the high school between 10 and 4 o'clock. For pickup call Mrs. R. L. Allinger, Campbell 3991 or Mrs. Alfred Weltz, Campbell 3600.

Women Engage In Fight

Dilion Ave., often the scene of turmoil, was the setting for something unusual in the way of fisticuffs last Saturday when, instead of the men taking over the fighting, three women tangled in a knock-down drag-out battle.

As the result of the fray, Mrs. Effie Ruyle has filed assault and battery charges against Mrs. Louella Herwood and Mrs. Ola Mae Reilly, whom she claims "jumped" her on Dillon Ave. and beat her. She says she received a cut on the back of her head, facial bruises and a sprained ankle.

The defendants will be represented at the trial by Attorney Martin Walsh. Originally set for today, the trial has been postponed until next Wednesday because Walsh was not able to be present today.

Judge Bell of Los Gatos will hear the case in Judge Blaine's courtroom as it is the custom to call in another justice when the local magistrate feels that he has heard too much of both sides of the case.

According to neighbors, the quarrel between Mrs. Ruyle and Mrs. Harwod grew from the contested use of a community washroom. The cabins in which the women reside are in a group which use a washroom containing laundry trays and a shower. Mrs. Reilly, who took part in the fray, is a sister of Mrs. Harwood.

ADVANCED IN NAVY

Hugh Nelson Jr., U. S. N., who is stationed in Seattle as a Pharmacist"s mate 1/c, has just been placed in charge of the recruiting station where he now gives all the physical examinations. Nelson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson, 57 Dillon Ave.

Miss Mary Lou Blair, in charge of the Campbell summer playground, reports that more cars are needed for transporting youthful swimmers and urges that interested people with cars available get in touch with her by telephoning Campbell 3580.

The young people are now enjoying a hike every Friday. Tomorrow's goal is Rinconada, where a picnic lunch will be enjoyed.

First Round Matches Completed

All first round matches of the Campbell tennis tournament have been completed, with the general favorites coming through as expected. The weather man has been very good to the contestants, with the result that both player and spectator enthusiasm is excellent.

The tournament has caught the fancy of the townspeople to such an extent that parking space near the courts is at a premium during the matches. So much enthusiasm has been generated that several have advocated starting a tennis club in Campbell.

Two contestants in particular have stood out so far. Judge Blaine, the oldest entrant, played a particular fine game of singles in bowing to his youthful opponent, Bob Slater. Although defeated, the Judge showed an outstanding ability to cover the court and made some particularly fine retrieves. The outstanding player of the tourney thus far has been Mrs. Helen Powell, who is heavily favored to cop the women's singles, and who with her husband Bill, is favored to win the mixed doubles. The match between her and Elaine Jeffers should be a clam-bang affair. They both play a very hard hitting, aggressive type of tennis, and it is a safe bet that either of them could clean up on about half of the male entrants in the tourney. Their second round match is to be played sometime this week. The men's doubles seems to be pretty much of a toss-up at this stage of the game, with the teams of Dan Clark and Bob Magnuson favored to tangle with George Phillips and Nick Reid for the title.

Matches are being played every night, under the lights. The public is invited and encouraged to come down to the high school courts any night and root for their favorites.

LLOYD NELSON TO SING AT METHODIST CHURCH

This Sunday and the following Sunday, members of the Methodist Church will be hosts to members of the Congregational church whose minister, Rev. Robert Carlson, is vacationing. During the service this coming Sunday Lloyd V. Nelson will be the guest soloist and will sing "Thanks Be To God". Mrs. Edith Van Rossem will play the organ.

Incorporation Petitions Ready for Signatures

Members of the Campbell Taxpayers' Association are starting this week to circulate petitions requesting incorporation for Campbell and are inviting all residents to another public meeting Tuesday evening, August 6, at the Library Hall at 8 p. m. to discuss incorporation. A speaker will be present to give information and to endeavor to answer questions concerning it.

The petitions, addressed to the Board of Supervisors, for which members are seeking signatures, read:

"Now come your petitioners and do hereby petition your Honorable Board to incorporate the territory hereinafter described into a Municipal Corporation under the provisions of the "Municipal Corporation Act of 1885", said municipal corporation to be known as the "CITY OF CAMPBELL".

"Your petitioners respectfully show and represent that 6,000 (six thousand) is the number of inhabitants (as nearly as may be) who now actually reside within the boundaries of the land hereinafter described; that none of said area is now included within the boundaries of any existing municipal corporation, but that the whole thereof is unincorporated territory; and that said area consists of and includes both subdivided and densely populated areas and farming and industrial areas.

"That each and every one of the signers of this petition is an actual resident and inhabitant of the area included within the boundaries hereinafter described, and that each of your petitioners is the holder of title to, or the holder of evidence of the title to, land situate within said boundaries; that is, each of said petitioners is the owner in fee of land situate therein or is the purchaser of said land under the terms of a written agreement for the purchase of the title thereto in fee.

"The proposed boundaries of said municipal corporation are as follows: (Legal description as given in last week's Press).

"WHEREFORE, your petitioners pray that your Honorable Board consider this petition, and after due notice given and due proceedings had according to law, that you cause the said Municipal Corporation to be formed, to be known and called as the "CITY OF CAMPBELL", and to have and possess all the powers conferred or that may hereafter be conferred by law upon cities of the FIFTH CLASS."

Cannery Finishes Apricots

Yesterday at noon Hunt's Food, Inc., formerly Drew's Canning Co., finished the season's apricot pack. Due to the small size of the apricots, many of them were canned whole and an unusually large number are being dried.

Tomorrow morning will see the beginning of the fruit cocktail and peach pack. Usually there is a wait of almost a week between the apricots and the peaches, but this season claims a wait-over of only one day.

At the present time the cannery is employing approximately 600 people, and Frank Silva, cannery official, says that more employees will be required during August.

On Tuesday work started on the new construction for warehouse expansion.

Baptists To Organize Church

The Baptists of Campbell will organize the First Southern Baptist Church of Campbell at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 4.

The group has been meeting for four Sundays in the Boy Scout's Hall as a Mission of the Calvary Southern Baptist Church of San Jose under the leadership of Rev. W. C. Ferguson. Rev. Ferguson came to Campbell from Sacramento, California, where he was pastor of the First Southern Baptist church in the Capitol City.

The organization council will be composed of pastors from San Jose, Alameda, Oakland, Hayward and San Francisco.

Rev. C. R. Crouch will read the Declarat of Faith, Rev. C. L. Crider of San Jose will read the Church Covenant, and Rev. E. K. Dougherty of Alameda will preach the organization sermon.

Inherits Large Estate

Edward I. Hopkins, Pollard Road, has been named heir to one-third of an estate valued at a large amount left by his father, Jesse L. Hopkins, New York drug importer. The elder Hopkins died in his apartment in Hotel Plaza in New York on July 13. Hopkins also inherited the Pollard Ave. ranch on which he resides, valued at $25,000.

Sharing the estate with Hopkins are his two sisters residing in New Jersey. Also mentioned in the will for a substantial inheritance is the Hopkins' daughter, Miss Jane Lee Hopkins. Miss Hopkins attended San Jose State College last year after two years at the Sacred Heart Convent.

Hopkins, called to New York by his father's illness, has remained there to take care of the business. Before his father's death, Hopkins managed the West Coast end of the huge importing business.

According to Mrs. Hopkins, the family will sell their Pollard Ave. ranch and move to New York in order to be closer to the management of the huge business.

DR. ROBSON TO MARRY IN WISCONSIN

Dr. Philip Robson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Robson, leaves tomorrow for Oshkosh, Wisconsin, where, on August 10, he will take as his bride Miss Margaret Casey, dauther of Mr. and Mrs. William Casey of that city.

The young couple will make their home in San Francisco where Dr. Robson will be on the staff of the Veterans Hospital.

New Business Starts Here

Added to the list of new businesses in Campbell is the Stoner Brothers Food Laboratory on S. Second, which will be engaged in testing commercial samples of food.

The firm is composed of two brothers, Henry C. and John Stoner. Both men and their wives will make their homes in Campbell.

Several employees will be needed by the new company which is desirous of employing local people.

EDITORIAL

The tennis tournament is proving not only interesting to the contestants but stimulating to a large number of Campbell people who turn out at the courts to form an enthusiastic gallery.

Franklin Blaine, a contestant in this current tournament, was the winner of the men's singles in the last tournament held 17 years ago. From the response to this summer's contest, it is to be hoped that we will not wait 17 years to have another.

Tennis is a sport which is deeply satisfying to the player, whether he wins or loses, and for those who like to take their sports in spectator fashion, it offers plenty of speed and drama.

IRATE OVER PROSTITUTION

WASHINGTON—Admiral Nimitz is trying to hush it up, but a hot row has broken out in the Navy's chaplain division over alleged discrimination against chaplains with combat records, some of whom have been denied admission into the regular Navy and others transferred to minor posts.

Four well-known chaplains already have resigned as a result of the dispute. They are:

Capt. William A. McGuire, Catholic chaplain of the 11th Naval District at San Diego—a 29-year naval veteran who served at fleet chaplain at Pearl Harbor at the outbreak of the war.

Capt. Maurice Witherspoon, Presbyterian, former All-American football star at Washington-Jefferson College and one of the most popular chaplains in the Navy.

Capt. William W. Edel, Methodist, who also chalked up a fine record as a combat chaplain.

Capt. Raymond Drinan, Catholic, former chaplain of the battle-scarred airplane carrier Enterprise.

In addition to the claim of combat chaplains that they are being relegated to minor roles while their non-combat colleagues get the top commands, many also are sure over the Navy's failure to crack down on prostitution in Japan.

A number of Protestant and Catholic chaplains who served in the Pacific contend that the Navy is abetting the growth of prostitution in Tokyo by an indifferent policy in regard to the Yoshiwaras.

These chaplains further charge that those who have fought prostitution in Tokyo have been disciplined for their efforts—among them, Comdr. O. B. Cook, who was transferred from Tokyo to Guam.

"I now feel," Porter told his former chief, "like a native whom the Navy forgot to remove from Bikini just before the atom bomb exploded."

Clarence Nelson, popular young member of the Nelson-Seaburn Company, was given an enjoyable "bachelor farewell" party at the home of his uncle, John Benson, last week. Nelson will be married on Aug. 9 to Miss Helen Bjornaas of Burbank.

15 Years Ago,
July 28, 1931.

The courtyard chautauqua under the direction of Rev. A. S. Buell of the Methodist church has been packed every night for the past week and has another week to run.

20 Years Ago,

Campbell Court Notes

By Judge Blaine

Last week three women, all cannery workers, had a fight in a Campbell street. One had the other two arrested for battery, and the trial was set for this Thursday.

We know—or think we do—that all three came from somewhere in the South. These folk love hard and hate hard. They really care. And both socially and financially they are on the up. Also, they are providing our local schools with most of their boom in children.

Children of these people usually grow up tall, slender and good looking. In high school they are often tops in athletic events. They incline to marry young and have large families of their own. They move from across the tracks to our newest restricted subdivision. They supply our community with most of its fresh vitality.

The Court, at this point, butts into the argument over industrial zoning. Without industries we'd be without a dependable source of fighting, breeding, progressing people. And the local bench would have little to make life interesting.

However, there would still remain double parking. A woman arrested for double parking on Campbell Avenue hastened to court and protested, "I'm moving from Santa Clara to Campbell, and here I am arrested even before I've settled down."

Said the judge, "I don't blame you for moving from Santa Clara to Campbell. It's becoming quite the fashion. And if you hadn't been arrested how would I have met you so soon and learned that you are 35 years old and weigh 125 pounds?"

"Did the officer put all that down? The beast!"

"Yes, it's all here on the citation, which will be filed as a permanent record. Ten years from now any one who looks over this file can learn that you are 45."

"My stars! The dollar fine is the least of it. I'll warn all my women friends not to double park."

SCOUTS VISIT MUSEUM

By Bernard Spiegel

Last Saturday the Eagle Patrol of Troop 36, Moreland, visited Snow's Museum in Oakland and the Oakland Museum. The Scouts enjoyed Snow's Museum especially, and learned about Mr. Snow's hunting experiences, travels, also how the museum was founded. The outstanding things we saw in the Oakland Museum were a seed that Perry took to the North Pole, a model of the Jaj Mahal, and a what-not owned by Abraham Lincoln.

After leaving the museums the Scouts enjoyed a boat ride around Lake Merritt. Another thing we enjoyed was riding esculators in H. C. Capwell's Department Store.

On the way home we visited Mission San Jose and the nearby graveyard where the early settlers are buried.

Hans Hansen Tells Of Trip to Denmark

Fellow Kiwanians listened with interest Tuesday to Hans Hansen describe his recent visit to Denmark. It was almost like the good old U . S. in some ways. Hansen had to get a Danish driver's license, and of course he had to read up on the ways of Danish driving and their various highway signs. Although he presented his passport and a California driver's license, they would have none of it. The only way one can drive a car in Denmark is to take the inspector out and have an examination and then pay 40 crowns (about $8.00) of which the inspector gets a goodly share and for a reward one receives a beautiful leather bound volume which only Hansen can understand.

There were very few trains running and those that did run were overcrowded with people clamoring for seats. Tires are hard to get and gasoline is very much restricted. On short trips the Danes resort to bicycles for transportation.

Hansen arrived in his homeland on Sunday and discovered the town all decked out with flags flying from all available spots and of course his first thought was that the townspeople had gone out of their way to welcome him home. Fortunately he made no mention of it because it turned out that the country flies the flags on Sundays and holidays just to show its pleasure at being rid of the Germans.

It had been 19 years since Hansen had left Denmark to make his home in the United States, so on his return to the old country the flying schedules of his Royal Dutch Airliner were a considerable contrast to his original crossing by boat from New York to Newfoundland, 5 hours; Newfoundland to Glascow, Scotland, 10 hours; Glascow to Amsterdam, 3 hours; Amsterdam to Copenhagen, 3 hours. The trip was 21 hours actual flying time, with various stopovers for servicing the airplane and a 6-hour stopover at Amsterdam on account of bad weather. The passengers were taken on a tour of Amsterdam by bus during this stopover and Hansen reports the town very badly damaged by the war and little or nothing done yet to rebuild. At no time were cameras allowed and at all the air fields the passengers were closely guarded as under wartime conditions.

Denmark was not badly damaged by the war according to Hansen, although he did not spend much time viewing the war torn locations, preferring to spend his three week vacation with his relatives.

Hansen said that Denmark is noted for its schools and is now permitting many children from Norway to attend as the schools in Norway were almost completely destroyed by the Germans.

Children start at 6 and attend school for 8 years and when graduated have an education equal to our high school graduates. They are required to speak three languages, English, Danish and German ,and are permitted more if they care to learn them. Many of the children choose French as their fourth language.

Denmark has had an old age pension for many years. First payments are started when a Dane reaches the age of 18 years and at the age of 65 the government department is notified and the next month the pension starts . . . perhaps a lesson in elimination of red tape that Americans could learn.

Guests at the meeting were Henry Jewel and C. P. Moss of Campbell; Sam Chaney, president; Leroy Wright, secretary; George Place, Andy Jacobsen, Rus Lambert, and "Doc" Harder of the Los Gatos club. Chairman for the day was Joe Dahl.

TO ATTEND GIFT SHOW

Miss Jane Parr of The What Not shop will leave Sunday for San Francisco to attend the annual gift show which is a part of Fall Market Week, dedicated to the job of providing furnishings for the countless new homes springing up throughout the West.

Miss Parr said she is looking forward eagerly to this year's show because a number of imported gifts are expected to make their appearance for the first time in several years, as well as many new domestic items.

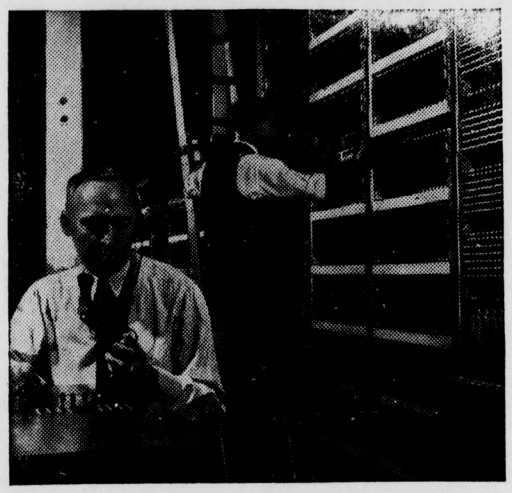
You'll dial calls all the way across the country

Some day, you will be able to complete a call to New York—or anywhere else in the country—almost as swiftly as a local call. For you will dial the number you want, and your call will be automatically routed across the country. Preliminary work on a nation-wide dialing system is already under way.



Uncannily accurate, switching equipment like this will do the job. Each section of the country will have a special three-digit code which you will simply dial before you dial the number you want. Between some neighboring cities here on the Coast long distance dialing will be a fact within the next few years.

This is only one of many long distance and local telephone projects included in our five-year four hundred million dollar expansion program. For it is our purpose to expand and improve service in every way we can . . . to make the telephone more useful and valuable to everyone.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.

Box Office Reporter

Playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Campbell Theater is the long awaited feature, "Do You Love Me".

Here's one of the best film musical scores in months. And to handle the tunes producer George Jessel has made liberal use of the talents of Harry James and his band, and crooner Dick Haymes—an ensemble that will have every bobby-soxer in the audience howling with delight as the boys swing through the measures of such hits as "I Didn't Mean a Word I Said," "As If I Didn't Have Enough on My Mind," and the title song, "Do You Love Me?"

This colorful selection of tunes, along with a couple of special Jamesian arrangements of the classics and some unadulterated long-hair music, has been given an equally Technicolorful production and a red-haired heroine in the person of Maureen O'Hara.

The whole combination is of the best.

As for plot, the writers dipped into Hollywood's own five-foot shelf and came up with that well-thumbed classic about the beautiful princess who cloaked her beauty in horn-rimmed spectacles and fettered her soul with a hair net. This princess was very happy with her job as head of a strictly classical music school until she went to New York. There she met a man who took off her glasses and fluffed out her hair and made her pretty and then she met a crooner who sang love songs to her that were more meaningful than Bach. And then, all of a sudden, the princess was transformed into a hepcat and she went right back to the dry-as-dust music school and injected a little jive into the place and lived there happily ever after with her New York crooner.

The film has beauty and it has standout tunes. And since you couldn't ask that the tunes be handled better, the musical is in the hit class.

The elk is more properly called the wapiti.
